Agency Description:

The D.C. Commission on the Arts and Humanities oversees the Public Arts Fund in order to fulfill the legislative mandate of DC Law 6-125, "Support for the Art in Public Places Act of 1986." The Public Arts Fund was created for commissioning and purchase of high quality artworks that are placed long-term in public areas throughout the District. These areas include District government buildings, schools, libraries, parks, hospitals and any other sites under direct jurisdiction and stewardship of the District. These works of art will include paintings, sculpture, mosaics, mobiles, murals, mixed media works, and all other forms of visual art that can be used to enhance the visual environment in which citizens live and work. The artwork is installed by artists with the participation and approval of the communities in which they will be displayed. In addition, the Arts Commission maintains the Capital Arts Grant project for the support of District arts organizations that are pursuing capital projects as enhancements to District neighborhoods and downtown Washington. The grants will be available through a competitive process to qualifying District arts organizations. Activities that take place under the Public Arts Fund enhance the visual environment of the District and support economic growth and neighborhood revitalization for the city.

The Commission on the Arts and Humanities serves as both the Municipal Arts Agency (MAA) and the designated State Arts Agency (SAA). As the MAA, the Arts Commission initiates, develops, evaluates and encourages programs that promote progress in the arts. As the SAA, the Arts Commission receives the District's federal grants for arts from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Project Description:

The Public Arts Fund was established to implement DC Law 6-125, "Support for the Art in Public Places Act of 1986." It finances the creation and installation of visual art with lasting positive images in public buildings and public spaces. It also provides for the enhancement and renovation of cultural facilities in the District of Columbia. The Public Art Fund supports the District's art in public places program, "DC Creates Public Art". The overall purpose of the Arts Commission's art in public places program is to place works of art in government facilities and public spaces and to provide grants to arts organizations undertaking capital projects that create a long-term commitment to providing arts opportunities in the District. These activities raise the quality of facilities and spaces in the District of Columbia by aiding in the cultural, social, and economic development of our city and its neighborhoods. Public art and cultural arts have proven to be critical ingredients in enhancing tourism, revitalizing neighborhoods and stimulating economic development.

Subproject Description:

This subproject provides for the placement of major public art projects in the District's neighborhoods. The interest and need for installing new murals, sculptures, and other significant public art projects in our neighborhoods has increased as they have proven to be catalysts for economic development. In fiscal year 2005, major gateway projects (outdoor sculptures, mosaics, artistically conceived sidewalk pavers, benches and environmental designs) will be installed in Anacostia, Columbia Heights and H Street, NE, culminating intensive public realm plan development processes in fiscal years 2003 and 2004 in partnership with neighborhood advisory groups, Main Street programs, the District Department of Transportation, the Office of Planning, and WMATA. Installation of these projects will be integrated with the construction phases of other public and private development projects in these areas. Currently the neighborhoods east of the Anacostia River are lacking public art. Focus areas include five platforms and a pedestrian walkway on the new light rail line, and a mural at the

Subproject Description:

This subproject provides for the placement of major public art projects that address community interests in commemorating notable citizens and local history, creating a stronger neighborhood identity, or creating an artistic enhancement to correct a eyesore. The Hopscotch Bridge Project, a mosaic mural on the H Street Bridge behind Union Station, is one example of this type of project. This subproject allows District Government agencies and interested community organizations to nominate sites for potential placement of public art projects. The Arts Commission brings artists, neighborhood residents, and community organizations together to develop project designs and involves community members in the selection process. Fiscal year 2005 projects under this program include outdoor mural projects at the Girard Street Playground in Columbia Heights, the Southeast Freeway overpass in the Barrack's Row Main Street district, and an outdoor mural in cooperation with Americans For the Arts that will pair local artists with visiting Mexican muralists. Subproject Description:

All livable and vibrant urban environments include public art. As efforts increase to revitalize downtown Washington, this subproject directly supports those efforts through the installation of sculpture and murals in public places. In fiscal year 2005, a program of outdoor sculpture installations in the 7th Street Arts District, the interim site of the former Convention Center, and the Mount Vernon Square area will draw District visitors and residents off the National Mall creating a distinct corridor up 7th and 9th Streets, past the MCI Center and MLK, Jr. Library, to the city Museum and the New Convention Center. This effort capitalizes on the visibility of major FY 2002 - 2004 projects in this area including "Party Animals," "Panda Mania", and "Epoch" the monumental sculpture at 9th and G Streets, NW by Albert Paley including a poem by DC Poet Laureate Dolores Kendrick.

Scope of Work:

The scope of work for this subproject includes the following components: development and presentation of design proposals, purchase of artwork, fabrication costs, installation, photographic documentation, framing, labels and plaques, conservation services and fine arts insurance.
